Living the Christian Mystery

We all have times of feeling that there must be something wrong with us that we have struggle and turmoil in our lives. We think things are supposed to be orderly and successful. And yet our lives are touched with grieving as well as glory, with breakdown as well as breakthrough. Come to this day to be heartened in the truth that our own experiences of suffering and love are sacred. They are part of the central Christian mystery of death and resurrection as we journey together in God's love. Inspiring and practical, woven with stories and humor, this day will encourage us to live with deeper trust in these troubled times.

Schedule

- 9:30 Morning Presentation
- 12:00 Lunch (included with registration)
- 1:15 Afternoon Presentation
- 3:45 Celebration of Eucharist in Ross Chapel

This day will allow time for input, sharing and quiet. Don't miss it!

Pat is a counselor, author, and nationally known speaker who has been giving workshops, retreats and lectures around the United States for thirty years. For seven years, she was the associate director of the Center for Continuing Formation in ministry at the University of Notre Dame. Pat has audiotapes with several publishers, has been a contributor to Ligourian, Catholic Digest, U.S. Catholic, Living with Christ, Living Faith and other magazines, and has appeared on Catholic television. Her books, Lessons of the Heart, This Blessed Mess and Let in the Light, published by Ave Maria Press, Notre Dame, have been on the best seller lists of spiritual books. She is married, and a mother and grandmother. Henry Nouwen wrote about Pat: She "gives us ears for the hidden treasures in our lives. She helps us see that something divine is present in the human, that something hopeful is happening in our usual ways, that an aspect of love shines through our hidden behavior, and that a divine gift is buried right at our feet."
